EDITORIAL

Dear Readers,

On our cover it states that we are "the original magazine for men who enjoy dressing like women!" While in its most basic essence this may be true, we would like to clarify and expand on this ethic for you.

First of all, we don't like to dress just like any women. I often go grocery shopping in the San Fernando Valley and I see dozens of women that I don't want to dress like. They don't want to dress like me either. This is good for both of us.

What we really want to dress like is whore/goddess/beauty-queen/movie-star/sexpots. Or something close to that any way. We want to be stared at and admired. Many of us would like to be dressed in such a manner that it provokes slightly lewd comments and actions from the opposite sex, which at that point we perceive to be male. Many of us like to feel that special connection with the same sex which, at that moment, happens to be female. This has much more to do with glamour and mythology than it does with simply being dressed as a woman. After all, the guidelines of men's and women's clothes has opened up so much that many items are interchangeable. In fact, when dressed in a T-shirt and jeans and sneakers, whose gender uniform do we have on?

Now, I know that I am going to receive a dozen letters from readers who like to dress in conservative pants suits and shirtwaist dresses. Flats. I hope our magazine can provide some entertainment for you as well, but for the most part I try to put in the magazine what interests me and, I hope, most of our readers.

One more note. It is for men who enjoy dressing like women. Not gays, not straights. Let's not forget our unifying desires and let's keep our connections strong.

Love to you all,
Kim Christy

Serena Saunders: Serenity & Glamour

A note from Kim: Serena and I have known each other for almost twenty years now. Yes, it's true we met when we were twelve. Only kidding. Her beautiful South Pacific skin and looks will always help her to remain ageless. In a subculture that is known for back biting and 'reading', Serena has stood out as being gracious and generous with her time and her talents. She has worked with me as both a stylist and a model and has always pitched in an extra hand when necessary. We hope you enjoy this tiny selection of photos.

Letters to the Editor

If you wish to write to Kim and possibly have your letter published please send all correspondence to F.M.I., POB 1622, Studio City, CA 91614. All letters sent are considered for unconditional publication unless otherwise specified. If you wish to have your pictures published as well, please see the new requirements for models releases and ID on page 39.

Dear Kim,

I had been practicing putting on makeup and putting on dresses for months.

I went out and purchased a new dress, a baby blue knee-length with puffy lace shoulders. I also bought a matching slip, bra and panties.

I rented a motel room to make myself into a female. My apartment building was mostly other males, so I didn't want to take the risk of discovery.

In the motel room I made myself up and put on my new outfit, painted my nails and put on a blonde wig.

I went to a movie theater, and the ticket girl said, "You look great," and winked at me as she gave me my ticket.

I had seen the movie before, so I knew when the end of the movie was near, and left a few minutes before it was over.

The ticket girl was waiting by the exit doors. She said, "Mind if I join you, I know a place we can go for a drink."

I drove as she gave directions to the night club.

At the night club, we got almost a front row seat to the stage.

The lights went down and the stage lights came up. There was what looked like a woman performing, only lipsyncing to "Hello Dolly" then doing "I'm a Girl." I realized we were at a female impersonator's club.

After the show, all the "girls" came out as their male-self, no makeup or dress. It was fantastic, how they looked so different.

We left the club and went back to the motel. The girl said to me,

"I knew you were a guy when you walked into the theatre."

"I knew you were a guy when you walked into the theater," and started to undress me. When she got down to the garter belt and stockings, she undressed and then removed my garterbelt and stocking and put them on her. She said, "Suck my pussy." I dived in. The feel of her nylons on my cheeks turned me on, and I made her pussy ooze all over my face.

Then she put the garter-belt and stockings back on me, and gave me a blowjob. I came all over her face and tits.

In the following months, she helped me with make-up, a darker wig (the blonde wig was too much.) We went shopping, movies and the "club" as females. We got a lot of wolf whistles.

We moved to an apartment for adults only and had a good relationship for six months, spending a lot of time as "sisters."

Then the whole world ended, as she was a victim of a hit and run car accident.

I will never forget Joanne. Never have found another woman like her.

Janet

Dear Janet,

Well, well, well. What an interesting little letter. That we should all find such intriguing ticket takers. I'm sorry that it had to end in such tragedy for you. Thank goodness you had some time together at all.

I hope that you are well on your way to forming new relationships now and that life's surprises are unfolding for you.

Love,
Kim

Dear Kim,

Having been a lifelong TV, I've progressed with this delicious and sensual alternative consistently all along.

However, that last 3 years that rate of progression has accelerated considerably, and the last 3 months at an explosively heated rate.

I've still got a distance to go, but I'm very pleased with the newest look I've attained. I've attained many firsts in a relatively short period of time, mainly because I'm so much more open and am comfortable with myself and my future, never again to be shamed or oppressed by anyone!

I don't need anyone even near me, let alone close, if they can't accept the full spectrum of who I am.

Among my more recent firsts are buying wigs more suitable to me, my first pairs of heels (red, pink and beautiful black patent leather), shaving my legs entirely and regularly, and a complete compliment of all necessary makeup options. My new look due to the makeup was great and truly the icing on my cake.

Also, I've just begun to come out of the closet and nothing can describe the wonderful feeling of freedom this has added to my life! To quote an unknown author, "Life is a celebration of beauty — a festival of the spirit."

Sisters, let's all be festive and celebrate when we can, and enjoy our beautiful selves!

If there's a downside in all this for me, it would be that I've done this all alone. I'm hoping my first ad ever, that will appear in F.M.I., will bring an end to this being alone in such a beautiful lifestyle!

My dear sister Kim, I really enjoy this very dignified and enlightening publication you and your hardworking staff put together for all us girls to read and enjoy. I'm sure we've all been brought much further forward because of all your efforts!!

I just love being a sissy!

Effeminately yours,
Kim

Dear Kim,

What an energetic letter. You sound ready to bust down the doors of the closet with a bazooka. I hope that whomever responds to your ad is careful with all flammable materials. Go girl!

Good luck,
Kim

Dear Kim,

I've just returned from a trip to the States, where I ransacked Lee Brewster's store in NY and the Mag Inc. store in L.A. I finally bought a large bag just to carry all the stuff that I had picked up — much of it was F.M.I.s from you.

*"My new look,
due to the make-up, was great and truly the icing on the cake."*

I have been collecting F.M.I. and its forerunner mags since I first came to the States on occasional business trips in the 1960s, and therefore saw a lot of pictures of you since your New York days. I very much regretted that you never showed any new pictures of yourself in later F.M.I.s and even had a slight suspicion that you had given up crossdressing and now were the epitome of a business man in a three-piece suit, leading your crew at the helm of your company. It was a sad thought, because I had loved your former beautiful feminine self.

I was however surprised and delighted, when I found your new picture in F.M.I. No. 61.

You never looked lovelier, not even when you were the crowned belle of the ball. Being young and pretty is — to a high degree — a present of nature. Being a mature person and still looking lovely is to an equally high degree owing to the personality of that person. Only somebody with a great personality can do it.

I can only congratulate you to your decision of having new photos of yourself made and published. In fact, I'd like to see much more of you as you are now. The old pictures for instance together with Chrysis in F.M.I. No. 53 are beautiful pieces of nostalgia, but they show kids at play. I love to see women, real women (even if they are counterfeit) who have lived and are experienced and not just young and beautiful. Mature women, who have mastered their life and formed their very own distinct, intriguing personality are so much more interesting and fascinating than simple, beautiful young girls.

Again, you look marvelous now in the new picture. Please let us have more of your present self, not just nostalgia of your youth. If I ever have the good fortune to meet you in person and you should really look only half as good as in your pictures (I know what a good photographer can do and therefore do not expect anybody to look as smashing in real life as in their photographs), I'd have no difficulty at all to fall madly in love with you — probably the last thing you'd want from a 59 year old lawyer from Germany.

Anyway, please don't hesitate to show us the mature Kim Christy. You have enough young beauties in the magazine elsewhere. Everybody is getting older and it's no use trying to stop it. If you get older and can still look as good as you do, you should show it and again be a role model for others.

Let me add a few thoughts about your video productions:

Most times when a she-male gets fucked, she doesn't really seem to enjoy it. How do I know? They're moaning and squealing alright, but while you never can tell whether a real woman is actually enjoying it, there is a very obvious sign if a she-male is getting turned-on: If she is getting hard! Now I know that many of your actresses are on hormones and their male libido is very subdued — to say the least. But sometimes they do get hard and then they fuck girls or boys and they do come, so they seem to enjoy it. But I've never seen any she-male get hard when she is being fucked. This, to me at least, is a terrible turn-off because then she is just used as a receptacle for the male lust, having no interest in the action herself.

I know that matters are different on the set while actually shooting, but this is the art of the director and/or cinematographer: To make it appear real.

So far, I have only seen a few sequences on video where the she-male actress really seemed to enjoy the action. The best was Lolita with Cory Monroe in Fly Me to the Moon. There, Lolita seduces her chauffeur and as soon as he lifts her skirt, she has a marvelous hard-on and she gets off beautifully.

In another sequence with the two of them (Lolita seduces Cory in a porno shop) she doesn't have a hard-on at the beginning, but gets hard as he plays with her. But as he then proceeds to fuck her, her hard-on shrivels to nothing while she moans and squeals, thus contradicting her acting in the worst way. Terrible!

One actress that always seems to enjoy the action is Jennifer Thomas. I saw her in Sulka's Wedding and Poysinberry I. I love her captivating smile and she always seems to enjoy whatever she does. I'd like to see more of her.

By the way: Do you have PAL versions of your videos? Most of Europe (except France, which uses its SECAM system) and Australia and many more countries use this TV system and people there cannot play your NTSC cassettes. I had to rely on what some enterprising German distributor would license from U.S. sources. Unfortunately, many feel it necessary to (at least in my opinion) ruin the whole picture by putting a German soundtrack on, either dub it completely or at least do a voice-over, explaining the action (as if it needed to).

OK — I've taken too much of your time already, but I hope at least some of my thoughts will fall on fertile soil.

Luv,
R.

Dear R.,

Thank you for the detailed letter. I'd be lying if I said I did not enjoy all the flattery you so generously handed out. Especially for those of us past 40, it means so much. Not to harp on a theme here, but I think that those steeped in European culture have a much better appreciation for all kinds of beauty. In America, too often we have the shortsightedness to only see beauty in the perfectly formed young examples of television, movies and magazines. There is a much wider spectrum to be appreciated.

I must agree with you that it is hard to get good erection shots of the girls while they are getting fucked. I am heartened however to see that it is also a rarity among the boy/boy videos as well. There are those few sterling examples of men who keep a hard-on the whole time they are getting fucked, but for the most part it is rare.

At this time, it is not financially effective for us to have any other formats than VHS for our videos. I wish I could offer more, mais je suis desole.

Thanks again for your letter.

Love,
Kim

Dear Kim,

Recently I received my first copy of F.M.I. No. 53. Now I am ordering Nos 51 and 52. This magazine is great. I only wish I had known about it a long time ago.

My name is Marion and I'm from Texas. I have been cross-dressing for many years (closet). The extent of my dressing had been limited to a garterbelt and stockings. It has been only within the past two years that I started my wardrobe. I now have dresses, panties, bras, slips, high-heels, pantyhose, wigs, paste-on nails, purses, girdles, make-up and everything else. I love to dress up and clean my place. It makes me feel like a real woman.

I enjoyed looking at the Personal Ad section of the magazine. I fell head-over-heels for that shy Texas Closet TV, Page 35, ad No. F-713 in the No. 53 issue. She is a good looker. I wrote to her and told her that I wished to correspond with her. I hope that she answers me. I told her that I was having a problem with the application of makeup. I just can't seem to get a smooth application. I have no problem with eyeshadow and lipstick. If she helps me with my makeup, I'll be more than happy to go with her out in public.

Another thing I do is wear some item of female attire everyday.

Whenever I would go out to eat, I would see women sitting down with crossed legs. I said to myself, "Why should they enjoy that and not me?" I can not stand it for one second to be away from my things. I love the feeling when I cross my legs and my stockings are rubbing each other.

So come on all you women out there in TV land, write to Kim and tell her how wonderful her magazine is. I love to read the Letters to the Editor and look at all those pretty women in the Personal Ad section.

F.M.I. is well-written and very informative. I enjoy it very much. Kim, please keep up the good work and don't ever let us down. We need your help in keeping us up to date on all that is happening.

In closing this letter, I want you to know again that I enjoy F.M.I. very much. Thank you!

Love,
Marion

Dear Marion,

So glad to hear that your escalation of the feminine style is going so well. I agree that to cross your legs "that way" is a pleasure that we should all enjoy. Americans are so up tight about things like that. In Europe, Paris especially, you see marvelous soigneur men in all the cafe's sitting with their legs crossed at the knee. They seem to inhabit their bodies in a more pleasurable, androgynous way than the men here do with their tight jeans and sprawled legs.

Enjoy,
Kim

Dear Kim,

I am writing this letter to you to express how much I have enjoyed Female Mimics International over the years. You have improved your products immensely lately and for that I, and I'm sure many others, are grateful.

I love to see your stories about the different girls. They are all very beautiful and very female. But that is my problem. I am a purist as far as Transvestism is concerned. And most of your girls do not fit that category. They are, to me, beautiful women with cocks. Now don't get me wrong, I love beautiful women with cocks.

But you have discovered what in my mind is a Transvestite's dream. The young person that did your story "Good Boy/Bad Girl" has the ability to transform himself from a handsome young man into a beautiful young woman. Reminds me of the abilities I first discovered in a young Kim Christy. You, too, have that unique ability of going from handsome young male into a ravishing female.

"I can not stand it for one second to be away from my things. I love the feeling when I cross my legs and my stockings rub together."

The potentials for this young person are unlimited. You can show how he became enamored by the feel of the clothes, and his transformation. Or his being forced by a female, or even by a she-male, into the feminine world. The possibilities are unlimited for his talents.

Please, may we see more simple male-to-female conversions for us purists at heart. I loved "Good Boy/Bad Girl" in your magazine. I only wish I could afford the video, but that's life.

Please continue your great work and if you can, please let me see more and more goodies.

Thanks for listening to my wishes.

Marci

Dear Marci,

Yes, the actor who portrayed the maid in "Good Boy/Bad Girl" was truly extraordinary. We would love a dozen or so just like him. When we do have actors like him, it makes our jobs so much easier. We also love our transgendered performers and we know that often our viewers are split on the subject. So we try to bring you the best of both.

Thanks for your interest,
Kim

MEN IN FROCK

KRIS KIRK & ED HEATH

Men in Frocks

By Kris Kirk and Ed Heath

This wonderful book on modern drag hails from England and is as thorough as thorough can be. Not limited to recent developments, this book covers the drag scene in the better parts of this century. It is filled with anecdotes, legends, delicious gossip and tons of photos of hundreds of folks. It also includes do-it-yourself steps for a perfect make-up job. Written with a great deal of humor and fun, we can recommend it. From Gay Men's Press, London.

This simple realization is hard won by Howard in this new Kim Christy video. Miss Oxnard, his teacher, has invited Howard to her home on the pretext of some needed tutorial help. Howard is much dismayed to find that Miss Oxnard has another agenda in plan: the feminization of her pupil! Howard protests at first, but Miss Oxnard has the goods on him. She has seen Howard playing with the other little girls. She has heard the cloakroom secrets whispered about the little sissy boy. She knows that she will be doing Howard a huge favor to help foster his needs and train his desires.

“I Am Not a Normal Boy!”

The commanding, swaggering Miss Oxnard insists that Howard dress in the silks and finery that she has chosen for him. Unrestrained revulsion for men's clothing is obvious in her sneer as Howard awkwardly sheds his clunky, rough men's shirt and pants, revealing the ultimate sensual insult, boxer shorts. The surprise, a maid's outfit in size 6, awaits Howard's treinning shoulders.

I AM NOT A NORMAL
BOY

Kim Christy's video is available now. See the listing in our catalog section at the back of the magazine!

"Did I tell you to stop twirling?" Miss Oxnard questions when Howard spins his new petticoat about her apartment. Still breathless from skirt spinning, she sits him down for a full make-up job and the crowning glory of an ash blonde wig. "This and a pair of silver sling-backs will make you so real you could walk your little sister to school."

"I want to show you two things, Howard," Miss Oxnard carefully explained. "One thing is for when you are bad, the other is for when you are good. Now we are going to try them both and see if you can tell which one is for which."

Howard spent months of extra tutorial time at Miss Oxnard's, trying to decide which was the punishment and which was the reward. He never could figure it out, but Miss Oxnard seemed to know and that's all that really mattered.

Doris Fish
(Philip C. Mills)

August 11, 1952 - June 22, 1991

Doris Fish died peacefully at 5 a.m. on Saturday, June 22, 1991 after a courageous four-year struggle with AIDS. Her lover, Marcel Delgado, and her mother, Mildred Mills, were at her side when she passed away.

San Francisco's most famous and beloved drag queen was born Philip Clargo Mills in Manly Vale, Australia. Already well-known as a notorious entertainment figure in her hometown of Sydney for her drag guerrilla theater troupe "Sylvia and the Synthetics", Doris Fish burst onto the local underground theater scene in 1976, when she was "discovered" as the winner of the Tubes' talent contest at Bimbo's 365 Club. Since then she has ruled as figurehead and goddess of Sluts A-Go-Go, San Francisco's premiere drag troupe of the 1980s.

Along with her cohorts Miss X and "Tippi," Sluts A-Go-Go created, wrote and appeared in now renowned nightclub sensations including Blonde Sin, Scream Girls and Box Office Poison. Other club appearances have included The Happy Hour Show and Marc Huestis' Naked Bunch at the now defunct Club 181.

Highly regarded for many years for her stand-up work and roles in light comedy, Doris Fish's reputation as a serious actress commenced in 1987 in Phillip R. Ford's wildly popular production of Bad Seed at Theater Rhinoceros. In 1989, Fish went on to achieve critical acclaim in the role of Madame Irma in Jean Genet's The Balcony, directed by the late Leland Moss.

Miss Fish's numerous film credits have included Huestis' Chuck Solomon: Coming of Age and Ford's forthcoming feature Vegas in Space, which is scheduled for a world premiere at San Francisco's Castro Theater on October 11, 1991. Fish not only stars in the film, but also served as executive producer and art director.

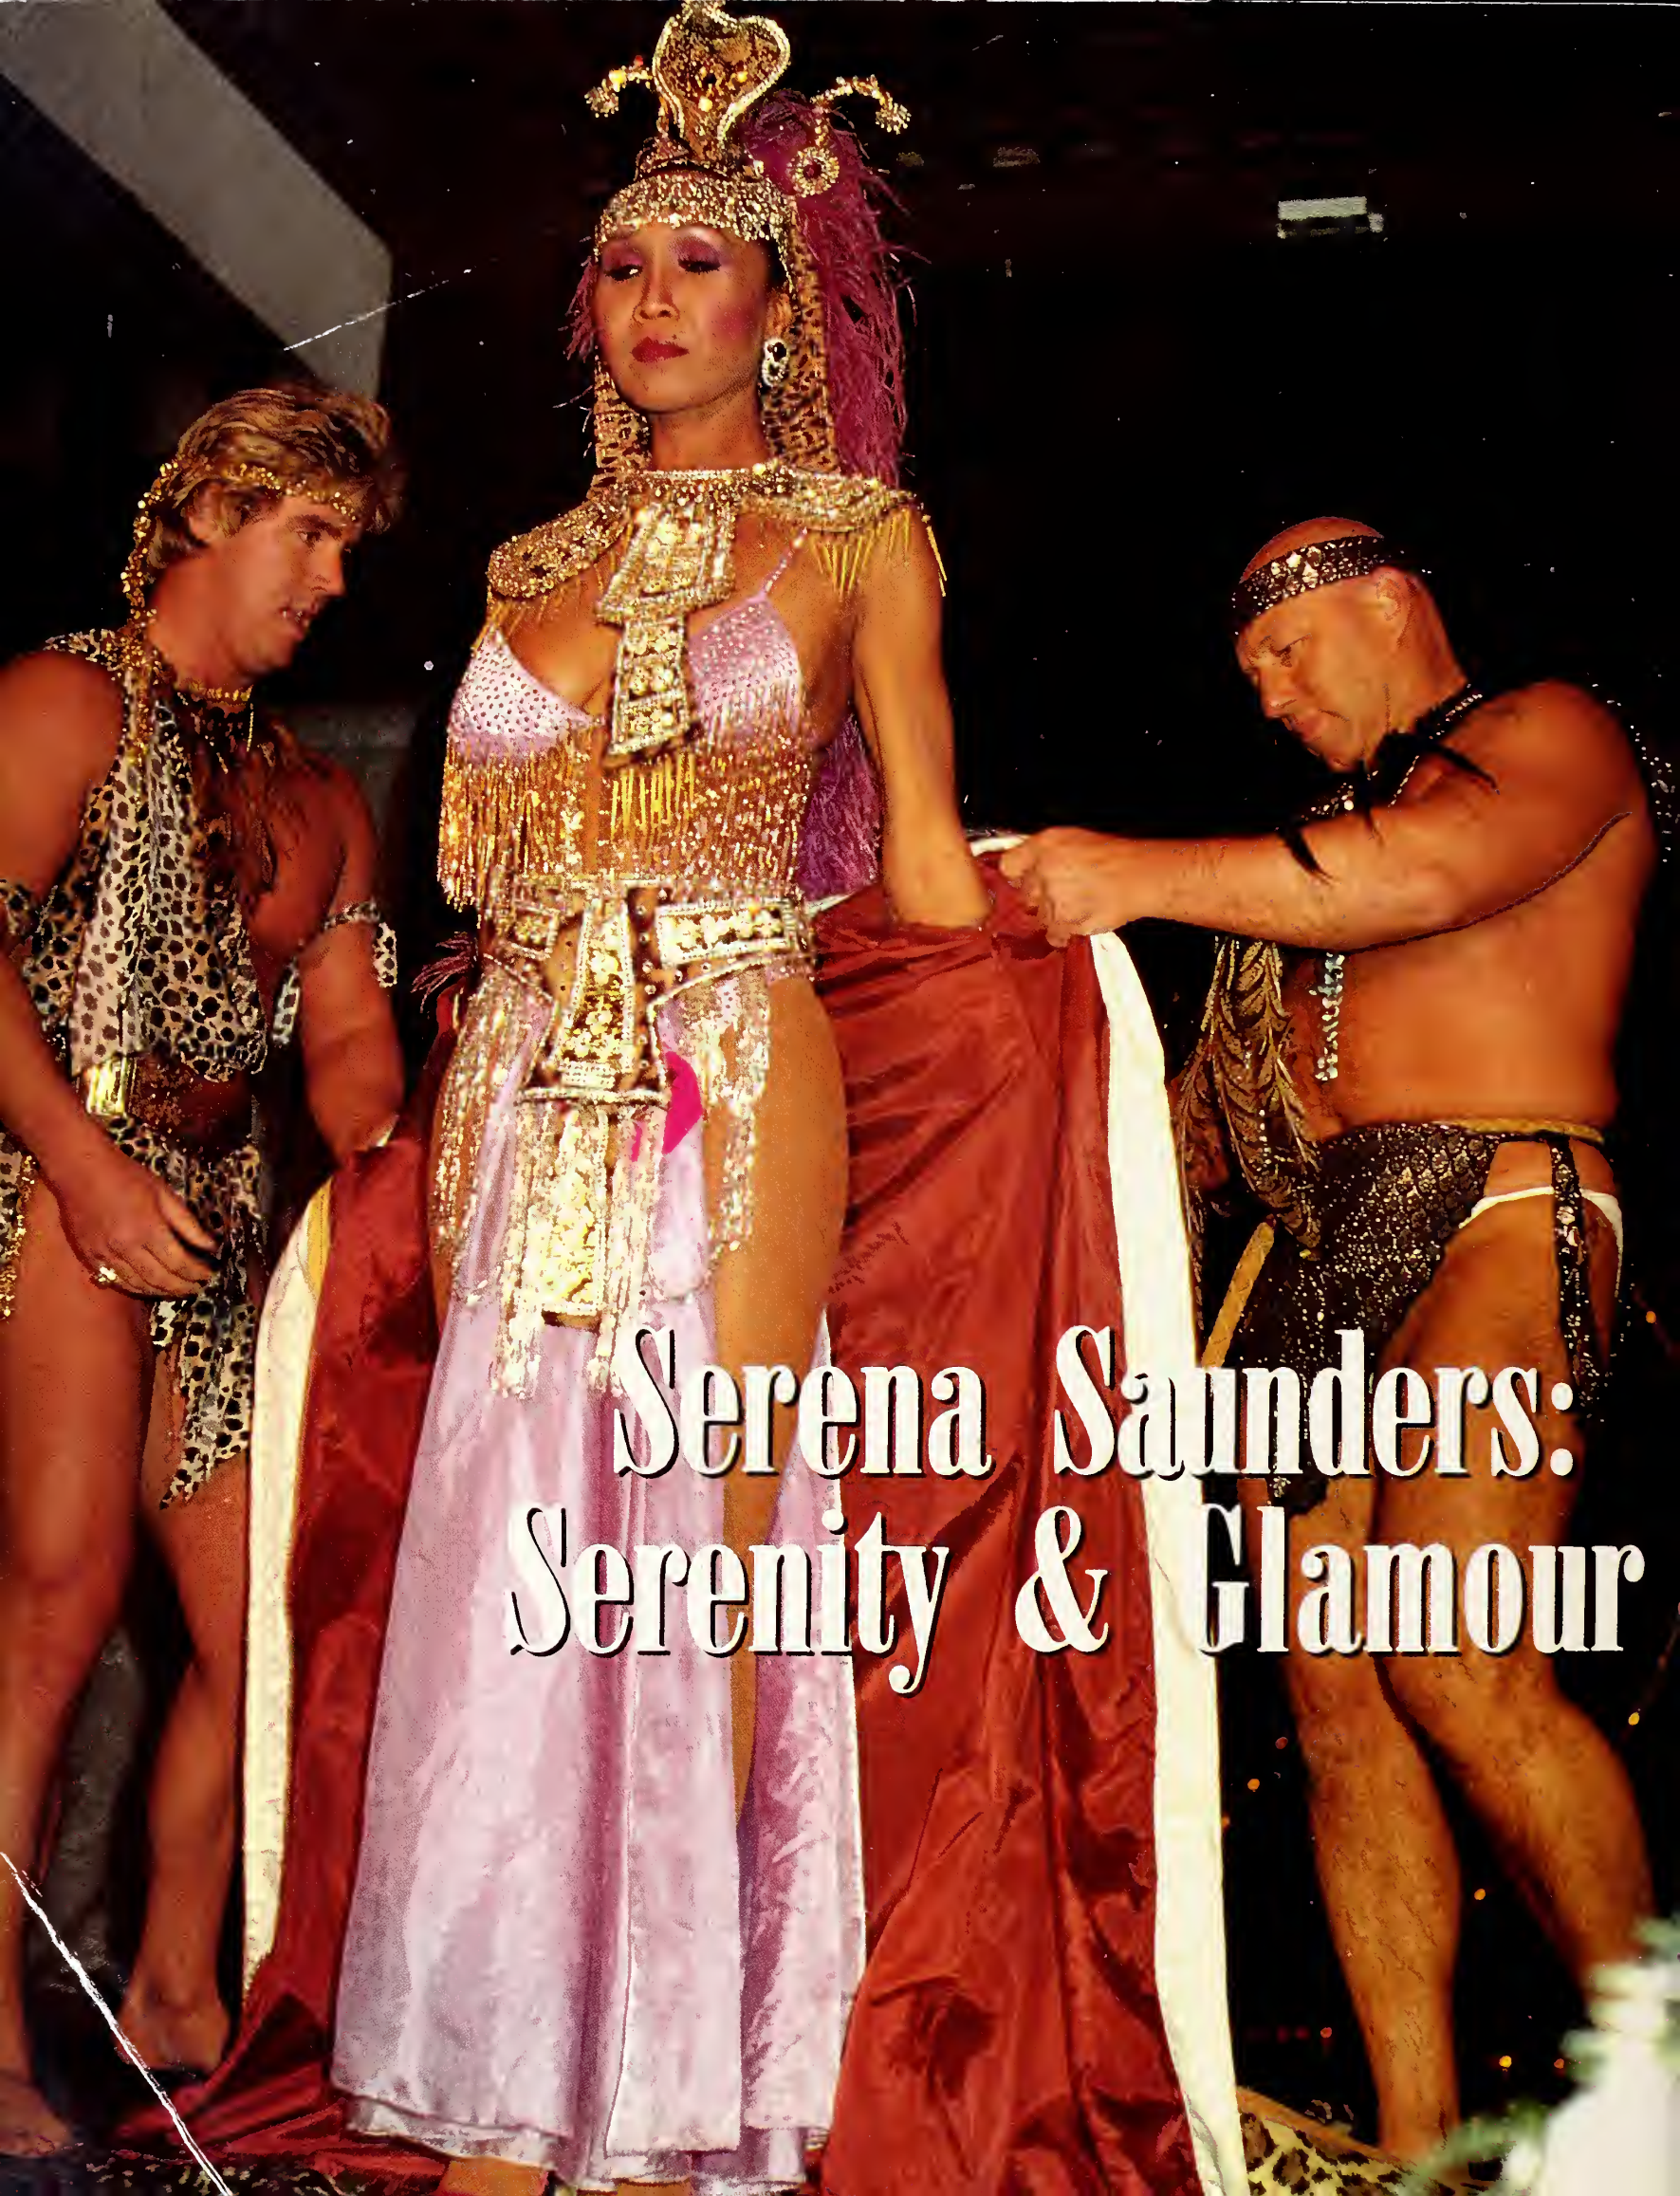

Claiming for herself the title "greeting card Queen of America", Doris is perhaps best known as West Graphic's top comedy model for her hundreds of appearances on their successful international card line.

Respected as an entertainer, actress, comedienne, activist and journalist (she wrote a weekly column for the San Francisco Sentinel throughout 1989 and 1990), Doris Fish was also an accomplished painter. her photorealistic portraits have been exhibited internationally. In 1991, she received a Cable Car Award as San Francisco's Outstanding Entertainer of the Year.

Last fall, a cast of local entertainers paid tribute to the legendary Fish in Who Does That Bitch Think She Is?, a gala event featuring performances by many of those with whom she had worked, and highlights from her nearly fifteen years of film, theater and nightclub appearances. This sold-out extravaganza succeeded in raising over $10,000 for Doris' medical and living expenses.

In recognition of her contribution to the city's artistic community, November 3, 1990 was declared "Doris Fish Day in San Francisco" by Mayor Art Agnos.

In addition to her lover Marcel and mother Mildred, Doris is survived by her father, Tony Mills, brothers Andrew and Michael, sisters Mary Ann Haid and Elizabeth Baker, and countless performers, friends and fans who loved Doris both onstage and off.
